1 Leppard's KLASSYKLOGS KATRIONA

13c1 F 5.4.08

A young sealpoint adult of ten months of age with lovely birman type who I judged as a kitten and who is really blossoming into a beautiful female adult. She had a medium size build with a firm solid body supported on strong well muscled thick set legs with short paws. Well shaped head that was broad and well rounded with medium size ears that were well placed and set far apart. Beautiful eyes that were almost round in shape and which had excellent deep blue eye colour and lovely expression. Her profile was good with a medium length nose that had a slight dip at the nasal bridge with a seal brown nose leather and a firm well tapering chin. The cheeks were round with plenty of width, still filling out and the bite was level. The coat was silky and soft in texture with a ruff developing and was of a clear pale shade of beige and showing a slight golden saddle over her back. Her tail was bushy and of medium length which was in proportion to the body length. The points were a rich seal brown shade with a fully developed mask that covered the face well and matched the other points. The socks and gloves were pristine white, clean and sparkling. The gloves were well matched and very slightly scalloped. The socks were not quite matching on the upper part of the foot but covered the entire paw. The gauntlets were of equal lengths but varied in width as one was beautifully tapering and the other one was just a little blunter in shape. A delightful girl who is very promising and was very feminine with a lovely gentle nature.

3 Skilling's FILENZIO CATSROOL

AC Birman, Turkish Van or Turkish Vankedisi Breeder's Kitten

1 Black's LIZZARA MOONBEAM

13c6 F 28.8.08

A five month old tortie birman kitten. A little small in size for her age and could have been larger but who had a firm, solid body with medium height legs and short paws. The head was fairly broad, rounded and had well set ears of medium size. The face was well patched having a very soft texture and was very soft seal brown and red and with a paler red blaze intermingled lightly with seal brown on her medium size nose which had a slight dip in profile but also with a slight bump at the end. The nose leather was full and was of a good shade of pink with a touch of seal brown. The eyes were not fully round but had deep blue eye colour and a sweet expression. The cheeks now need to develop more width and the muzzle needs to broaden. The bite was level and she had a firm chin that could be deeper. Her tail was in proportion to the body length and was well furnished. The coat was lovely and clear being a pale shade of fawn. It was fairly long and soft with a lovely silky texture. The points were showing some intermingling of colours and the mask was developing well. All feet were a clean white and she had good gloves that were well matched and even across the paw line. The socks were a reasonable match and the gauntlets were full and matching and almost reaching the hock. A girl with a sweet nature who handled well.

AC Birman, TurkishVan or Turkish Vankedisi Non-Breeder's Kitten

1 Mellor's BULLAMOOR BRAVEHEART

13c1 M 5.6.08

A handsome seal point birman boy with good type and very good substance for his age of eight months and who I was pleased to meet again. He has a strong rounded skull with good width and with ears of medium size that were spaced far apart. Almost round shaped eyes had stunning deep blue eye colour that do not come much deeper and with a lovely birman expression. He has a good profile with a medium length nose that had the correct slight dip at the nasal bridge with a full seal brown nose leather. The cheeks were round and full and he had a level bite and a nicely tapering chin. The mask covered the face well and was a rich seal brown and matched the colour of the ears perfectly although there was very slight brindling on the mask and head at present. The other points were a shade paler in tone. The body was muscular and firm, of a good weight with well boned legs of medium height and short strong paws. The tail was in proportion and was bushy and a shade paler than the other points. He had a beautiful long coat which was lovely and full, with a well developed ruff and which had a texture that was very soft and silky. It was of a pale beige shade with just a hint of a golden hue and was expertly presented. The feet were sparkling white and his right glove was slightly scalloped and had a line running down to the stopper pad but not extending beyond it. The left glove had a slight dip of seal brown colouring between the toes. The socks were short with the right hand one just a little untidy at its edge. The gauntlets were of slightly different widths having the left one broader and tapering while the right hand one was narrower and blunt. A well mannered exhibit who was expertly presented for the show.

2 Pool's DALTEEMA STARDUST

13c6 F 3.6.08

This tortie birman girl was just a couple of days older than the winner of this class. She has pleasing birman type and was a very pretty girl with good type. Broad head with a strong rounded skull shape. The ears were of medium size and were of a reddish colours and were well sited on the head and spaced far apart. Balanced facial features with a head and mask that was showing good tortie colours of seal brown and shades of red. The eyes were almost round and had blue eye colour that was two tone at present. A medium size nose had a seal brown nose leather and a slight dip in profile and she had a light coloured blaze on half of her nose. The cheeks were full and she had a slightly tapering firm chin with a level bite. Body shape was balanced and was of good substance and weight and set on strong sturdy limbs with short paws. Her tail was of a good length and was bushy. The coat was soft, thick and fairly long in good condition and was of a soft texture and fawn colour. The tortie points were clearly visible showing good intermingling of the seal brown and red colours. The feet were clean and white and had gloves that were level and slightly scalloped. The socks were matching and the gauntlets appeared to be identical but hard to see as the left hand one merged with the pale colour of the legs. A well behaved girl who was easy to handle and who was in good condition.

3 Russell's DALTEEMA CRRAILISO AMBER

13c7 F 29.5.08

A cream point birman girl who I have met before and who has good birman type. She is also eight months old and is a well grown kitten of large size and good boning set on strong legs of medium height and with short rounded paws. Head shape was broad and well rounded with well set ears of medium size. Her nose was of medium length and had a slight dip in profile with a full pink nose leather. Good width to cheeks with a level bite and a slightly tapering chin which could have been deeper for better facial balance. The cream mask was almost covering the face fully and was a pale shade of cream over the ears, legs and ended with a fully furnished bushy tail of medium length. Her coat was a lovely pale off white and was very clear and free of any shadiness. It was soft and very silky in texture with a ruff developing. The feet markings were pure white and had gloves that were set a little low on the upper part of the paw and were slightly scalloped. The right hand glove reached the stop on the underside but it was hard to see if it went beyond on account of the paleness of the fur and so was given the benefit of doubt. Her socks were symmetrical with the left one just slightly longer and the gauntlets were well matching. She had a delightful sweet nature and really enjoyed being judged and was a great pleasure for me to handle her.
